Policy statement:

Springboard Nursery believes that the health and safety of children is of paramount importance. We make our setting a safe and healthy place for children, parents, staff and volunteers by assessing and minimizing the hazards and risks to enable children to thrive in a healthy and safe environment.

Health and safety in nursery is extremely important due to the particularly vulnerable nature of early years pupils. All employers, managers or owners are legally required to make sure nursery children and staff are protected so far as 'reasonably practicable' from the hazards of being and working in a nursery

Health and safety law. The Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 says that employers are responsible for making sure that all their employees are safe at work and are protected from possible dangers to their health. This includes making sure that the job and the work environment are safe and has no health risks.

Bomb threat

If the nursery should receive a bomb threat, the person taking the call must record all the details given over the phone as soon as possible and raise the alarm as soon as the phone call is terminated. The management will follow the fire evacuation procedure to ensure the safety of all on the premises and will provide as much detail to the emergency services as possible. (please refer to fire safety / emergency evacuation policy)
